VIDEO

The GorillaPod Video is designed specifically for most mini and pocket camcorders and point-and-shoot cameras with video capabilities, so you can seamlessly capture video wherever you go. The omni-directional positioning video head allows for easy orientation at any angle, with seamless 360° pan and 135° tilt. Constructed of anodised aluminium, the lightweight design is engineered for durability and capture on the go.

The GorillaPod Video's flexible, wrappable ball-and-socket legs provide stability anywhere, while the super-strong magnetic feet allow you to achieve vantage points that were previously impossible. And the quick-release plate makes it easy to go from hands-free to handheld in seconds.
